

Conference Information fact sheet

Accommodations and meals are included with your registration. Ontario Police College is the provincial training facility for all police services in Ontario and has recruit dormitory style rooms that all delegates will be housed in. Other courses may be in session so delegates are reminded to be respectful of classroom activities.

Each delegate will have a private room with single bed. Bedding is supplied. Each area or “pod” as it is referred to include ten bed rooms, a common area, and 2 shared bathroom facilities including showers. Personal bath items such as towels and shampoo are NOT provided. Delegates must supply their own personal effects.

Meals are provided in a cafeteria style setting whereby delegates will have a small selection of nutritious food products to choose from.

OPC has an excellent physical fitness centre that delegates may enjoy.

Conference delegates will also enjoy a ‘Meet and Greet’ social and 2 evening barbeque meals that will include entertainment and provide an excellent opportunity to network with other delegates.

Manner of attire for the conference is business casual (i.e. open collared shirt/golf shirt with dress pants) during the day and casual (i.e. shorts) during evening events.

Average temperature in southwestern Ontario during the end of August is 25 – 30 degrees Celsius and is generally humid.

Further information about the OPC and conference may be found at www.opconline.ca in the Student Resident Handbook, as well as www.oape.org

Questions or concerns may be addressed to any OAPE executive member. Contact information is located on our website.

Yours in training,
